

A True Story of Success
by Aida Dzirio
(as told to Alakai Graeme Urlich)

Dear Graeme,

I have already told you about my diagnosed disease SLE (systemic Lupus erythematoses) and lupus nephritis. It was diagnosed in 2005 and since then I have been taking medication.

In the year 2005 December to the end of February 2006 I was in an artificial coma. After waking up I didn't know what had happened and I wasn't even aware that so long had passed and that I was even in a coma. I was bedridden and could talk only with difficulty, because I was artificially ventilated.

Every day a doctor came, but I saw the chief doctor for the first time in my room. He talked to me about SLE and explained what a serious illness I had. His last sentence was, "This disease is not curable and you have to live with it." I found it very difficult to speak, but I said a single sentence "I will heal it." He nodded his head, looked at the other doctors, twisted his eyes and walked out.

I already told you that my values are good, but the DNA analysis in the blood showed the autoimmune disease.

All these years, I was firmly convinced that I was not ill and that I would make this diagnosis disappear.

My family, relatives, friends were very sad and I was always happy. No one believed in me and everyone kept saying that I should stop imagining things.

So, I was the only one who believed in it and felt a little left alone. I asked myself questions like: "Why doesn't anyone believe it? Why does nobody see it? It's as clear as the stars in the sky!" Well, then I am different and continue my way. I have always known that it would come out right, but when did I not know.

On Monday I went to my doctor for a check-up. The blood results were ready, I got a phone call in the evening. "The blood values have never been so good. We can't detect antibodies and DNA is negative" said the doctor.

I felt a sense of happiness inside me and the feelings of happiness flowed more and more quickly through the whole body.

"What does it mean to you?" I asked him. "Spontaneous healing?" He was briefly silent and said: "I can't explain it to myself, but yes, it's like that!"

I smiled :-) I knew that it was the power in me and the positive thinking the whole 14 years!

This week I often walked in nature, took time for myself and reviewed the whole 14 years. Did the natural herbs that I took also help me? I asked myself (secretly, because the doctors forbid it and did not believe in it), the positive thinking, my inner voice that I always listen to, self-confidence or faith? One thing

I immediately excluded was the medicine of doctors, who alleviate the symptoms, poison the body, but do not heal.

At the moment when I wrote the questions to myself, I realized it only now that I actually lived according to the Huna principles without having been aware of it. I didn't know what Huna meant, nor had I ever heard of it before.

As you already know, I told you that I was looking for something I didn't know what it was called, techniques and methods to learn and practice. And I found what I was looking for.

First, my inner voice led me to Sonja Funke who introduced me to the Huna philosophy, then a few days later I went to Petra Leimomi in Munich, where I got a Lomi Lomi massage. During the massage (heart chakra) my tears flowed and I asked Petra Leimomi who the woman with long grey hair and blue eyes was. She looked at me and said that is Susan Floyd. I answered crying, that I didn't know this name, searched her on Google and then the tears ran down my back...

Yes, that's the woman from my inner garden and I couldn't stop crying!

Then I contacted Susan Floyd and Jutta Hahr. Jutta Hahr referred me back to you and you finally referred me to Serge Kali King. It all happened within three days and I only knew one thing: I've been looking for it for 14 years and am happy to have found you all, even though we've never seen each other before. I own every book by Serge, read it with joy and every written word from him confirms only what I have always felt.

Basically, I have always lived according to the principles written by Serge in his books, but there is only one question that remains open to me: Why did I have to go through all this and go my own way to find out about Huna and that such a thing exists?

I thank all of you from the heart who helped me unconsciously.

I have cured an "incurable disease" and I'm the luckiest woman in the world! :-))

Of course I practice and continue to practice all techniques necessary for me...

Aloha, Aida

P.S. If desired, my story may be passed on with pleasure.
